

Hi Raymond,

I can help you download all your published videos in High Definition and organize them neatly (e.g., by title, upload date, or platform).

I've already worked on similar automation and media-handling tasks — including bulk video downloads and conversions using Python tools like yt-dlp and ffmpeg. I can either download them manually (if specific URLs are given) or automate the process for speed and accuracy.

What I'll deliver:

HD copies of all videos

Proper file names and structure

Quick turnaround

Reliable and secure handling of your content

I'm ready to start right away. Could you please share the source URLs or platform where the videos are hosted?

Best regards,

Tadrous William
